The World's Simplest Cure for Cancer.

LOGLINE

A teen embarks on a cross-country trip to investigate the merits of a natural therapy for cancer based upon diet. He learns that this cure, which boldly contradicts the treatments promoted by the medical establishment, has existed for over half a century.

SHORT SYNOPSIS

After the unexpected and tragic death of his mother, 15-year old Garrett was spiraling downward and fast. His father withdrew him from school to prevent him from flunking out, after which he was home-taught. Growing up on an Alaskan animal reserve, Garrett's father recognized his son's interest in the dietary habits of their animals. That prompted him to assign a book written by Dr. Max Gerson, which maintains that there is a direct link between diet and a cure for cancer. Fascinated and curious, Garrett embarks on a cross-country road trip to investigate the merits of The Gerson Therapy. He meets with scientists, doctors and cancer survivors who reveal how the multi-billion dollar medical industry has made it their mission to dismiss the notion of alternative and natural cures.

LONGER SYNOPSIS

Garrett is a 15-year old boy living in the Alaskan wilderness with a menagerie of orphaned animals. Growing up close with nature has given him a deep understanding of nutritional needs required by diet sensitive animals on the reserve. Unfortunately, the untimely and tragic death of his mother propelled him into a downward spiral and he risked flunking out of school. This led to his father's decision to home-school Garrett. His first assignment was to study a controversial book written by Dr. Max Gerson.

Written over 50 years ago, Dr. Gerson found that diet could, and did, cure cancer. Controversial at the time (and even today), Garrett took on the challenge of researching this amazing therapy, which drew the interest of his neighbors in the small Alaskan community. With the help of Dr. Gerson's daughter, Charlotte Gerson, and grandson, Howard Straus, they gave him the ammunition needed to go in search for the truth – a truth that would affect not only him, but his entire Alaskan village – all of whom wanted to know if these claims were true. After a number of cancer patients, who were diagnosed as terminal, shared their stories and their medical records with Garrett, it became abundantly clear that, contrary to the disinformation campaign spear-headed by the multi-billion dollar medical and pharmaceutical industry, a cure for virtually all cancers and chronic diseases does exist – and has existed for over 80 years!

Garrett's mission now is to tell the world.

DIRECTOR'S STATEMENT

My purpose in making this film is that I wanted to share with people, especially kids, an example of what constitutes environmental sustainability and profound health for all living things. I have been a natural history filmmaker for over twenty years and have lived close to nature my entire life. And for the past two decades, my house has been a 24' x 32' log cabin nestled in the Chilkat Mountains of Alaska – far removed from modern civilization.

I have worked with injured and orphaned wild animals and have been moved by the recovery of wildlife from illness and disease by the nutritional therapies that I used. So when I was introduced to the work of Dr. Max Gerson on human nutrition by an associate, I wanted to investigate these amazing claims. I was startled by these discoveries and frankly, it has changed my life – especially when I was able to meet the people who should have been dead due to terminal cancer.

Since I am a filmmaker, I wanted to meet Dr. Gerson's family and do a short film for charity. The fallout from that early work was so controversial, far-reaching, yet uplifting; I decided to make a feature length film.

I've spoken with hundreds of people about Gerson's therapy and many people related their recoveries, their skepticism and bias – most of which came from the medical community. But what I quickly found out that those who dismissed the therapy did not have conclusive evidence that it didn't work. In doing more investigation, it quickly became evident that an almost criminal set of priorities has been in play when it comes to treating human disease. The mixture of frustration and disbelief at the extent of human greed at the expense of human life to make money is what drives my passion and support for Gerson's therapy and what it represents for environmental harmony and sustainability.

As I've mentioned, this therapy has changed my life, but in order to make a convincing, well-balanced and entertaining film, it was important to weave together people from the orthodox medical community and other industries who despise Gerson with those who support it.

To put a human face to this story, my 15-year old son, Garrett, accepts the mission to discover (with an open mind), what the Gerson therapy is all about -- positive or negative. My primary motivation for recruiting Garrett was due in large part to the tragic death of his mother and the profound affect on him. He is also passionate about the environmental challenges that face the planet for young people and he feels he can contribute by spreading the word.

But in the end, THE BEAUTIFUL TRUTH for me and for those who watch this film is that there are many, many beautiful truths to give us all hope.

WHAT IS THE GERSON THERAPY?

The Gerson Therapy is a powerful, natural treatment that boosts your body's own immune system to heal cancer, arthritis, heart disease, allergies, and many other degenerative diseases. One aspect of the Gerson Therapy that sets it apart from most other treatment methods is its all-encompassing nature. An abundance of nutrients from thirteen fresh, organic juices is consumed every day, providing your body with a super dose of enzymes, minerals and nutrients. These substances then break down diseased tissue in the body, while enemas aid in eliminating the lifelong buildup of toxins from the liver.

With its whole-body approach to healing, the Gerson Therapy naturally reactivates your body's magnificent ability to heal itself – with no damaging side-effects. Over 200 articles in respected medical literature and thousands of people cured of their "incurable" diseases document the Gerson Therapy's effectiveness. The Gerson Therapy is one of the few treatments to have a 60 year history of success.

Although its philosophy of cleansing and reactivating the body is simple, the Gerson Therapy is a complex method of treatment requiring significant attention to detail. While many patients have made full recoveries practicing the Gerson Therapy on their own, for best results it is recommended to begin treatment at a Gerson Institute licensed treatment center.

MAX GERSON, M.D. – BIOGRAPHY

Born in eastern Germany, the third of nine children, Max exhibited early interest in plants, soils and their growing conditions. He often visited his grandmother's garden when only seven years of age. There he was impressed when he observed an experiment his grandmother had initiated with two flower beds. She fertilized one bed with the normal organic materials used for centuries; the other bed was treated with modern chemicals. Max watched the earthworms leaving the chemically imbued soil and burrowing into the natural earth.

After his primary schools, Max attended various medical schools, as was the standard practice of the German medical education. Thus, students were exposed to the best authorities in various medical disciplines, taught by the most renowned professors. Max attended the Universities of Breslau, Wuerzburg, Berlin and Freiburg. During WWI, Max worked as an assistant to the famous neurosurgeon, Dr. Ottfried Foerster.

During the years of his medical education, Max suffered from recurring migraine headaches. They became so frequent and severe that he felt impelled to find a way to clear them. His teachers and professors admitted their inability to help; however he was unwilling to follow their advice: "Learn to live with it." In his intensive investigation of the problem during the following years, he finally found a reference to amelioration in one case of migraine through the use of diet. This was a new concept, but fit into his thinking. After considerable trial and error, he finally developed a nutritional system, a vegetarian, salt-free diet that kept him free of migraine headaches.

After medical training, he established his own practice and would advise migraine sufferers to use the same diet that helped him. They regularly reported excellent results – as long as they followed his directions. One such patient, however, returned to Dr. Gerson's practice and explained that, aside from his migraines, he had also been suffering from skin tuberculosis which had also disappeared. Dr. Gerson couldn't believe this, since skin tuberculosis was considered "incurable." But the man had laboratory tests, proving his disease. On the basis of this one case, Dr. Gerson treated many other skin tuberculosis patients, with equally excellent results. This came to the ears of the famous lung tuberculosis specialist, Dr. Ferdinand

MAX GERSON, M.D. – BIOGRAPHY (CON'T)

Sauerbruch, who was curious about Gerson's healing diet. Sauerbruch initiated a clinical trial treating 450 advanced skin tuberculosis cases with Gerson's dietary regime. The trial resulted in 446 complete recoveries in these "incurable" patients. Dr. Gerson, however, felt that if skin tuberculosis could be healed, why not other forms of the disease? He subsequently found that bone, lung, kidney and other forms of tuberculosis all responded to his original "migraine diet". Not only that, but patients who suffered with additional problems, such as allergies, high blood pressure, kidney problems, etc. were also healed of these problems.

Thus it became very obvious that Dr. Gerson was not 'treating' or 'healing' a disease; but was working on an entirely different level by "healing the whole body".

In time Dr. Gerson developed the strict regimen that was needed to heal cancer, which he felt was the most advanced damage to the human body and its defenses. Some years after he had immigrated to the United States, Dr. Gerson was able also to cure the most advanced, metastasized cases of all types of cancer. He documented his successful treatment in his last volume, 'A Cancer Therapy – Results of 50 Cases'. Almost all of those patients had been sent home to die. All survived at least 5 years; some, young enough at the time, are still living in good, active health, after 45 years.

CHARLOTTE GERSON – BIOGRAPHY

Charlotte was born in Germany later attending schools in Vienna, Paris and London before coming to New York where she finished her high school education. She subsequently attended Smith College.

Charlotte often visited her father's clinic in upstate New York, made rounds with him and assisted him in many ways. She studied his therapy and its application to his patients.

After her father's death, she continued to publish his last book, 'A Cancer Therapy – Results of 50 Cases' and started to lecture on the Gerson Therapy. For the past 35 years, she has lectured widely all over the United States, in Canada, Mexico as well as in Europe and Australia. She is well known as a speaker at many of the health conventions such as: The Cancer Control Society, The National Health Federation, The Modern Manna Group, The Consumer Health Organization of Canada as well as at many private organizations. Also, for the past 30 years, Charlotte has trained physicians in the Gerson Therapy at Mexican Gerson Therapy Hospitals. Presently, she functions mostly as an independent private consultant and lecturer. On their invitation, she gave testimony to the Joint Parliamentary Committee on Complementary and Alternative Medicine at the British Parliament; has spoken at the Wolfgang Goethe University in Frankfurt, and the London University, various Irish University locations, and in Italy.

Charlotte writes many articles about general health, the Gerson Therapy and recovered patients. She regularly contributes to the Gerson Healing Newsletter and her articles have been reprinted in magazines worldwide.

In 2001, she co-authored a reader-friendly rewrite of Dr. Gerson's book, with the title of 'The Gerson Therapy – The Amazing Nutritional Program For Cancer and Other Illnesses'. In 2002, she published a series of nine "booklets" responding to the public's requests for "Patients recovered from their kind of cancer." These 32-page booklets bear the titles of 'Healing [name of cancer] the Gerson Way'. They are very popular since each of them presents about a dozen recovered patients of that cancer.

CHARLOTTE GERSON – BIOGRAPHY (CON'T)

Charlotte owns the copyright on two excellent DVD's describing the Gerson Therapy, showing recovered patients. The first one, "The Gerson Miracle", won "Best Picture" at the 2004 Beverly Hills Film Festival. The second documentary, "Dying to Have Known", describes the critics' claims and counters them with Surgeons and Professors of Medicine showing cured, formerly terminal, patients treated with the Gerson Therapy.

Charlotte's latest book, 'Healing the Gerson Way – Defeating Cancer and Other Chronic Diseases', written in cooperation with Beata Bishop, came out in August, 2007. It is new, in excellent style, eminently readable and usable for self-healing. It also has over 90 pages of Gerson recipes.

HOWARD STRAUS – BIOGRAPHY

Howard Straus, Dr. Gerson's first grandson, lived a number of years with his grandparents while attending Waldorf School in Manhattan. He attended MIT (Massachusetts Institute of Technology), graduating in Physics in 1964.

After college, Mr. Straus worked in the computer industry for over 40 years, taking part in many of the technological advances of the computer revolution, from transistors to the Internet, working as a contractor many of those years.

Some three months before his wedding to the former Sally Lynne Handy in 1989, she came down with her third occurrence of cancer: basal cell carcinoma. The two traveled to the Mexican Gerson clinic, stayed briefly, then completed the Gerson Therapy in Carmel. In the middle of her Therapy, Sally and Mr. Straus were married. She is healthy and well today, some 19 years later. The Therapy had such a good effect on both that they continue many of the elements of the regimen today simply to maintain their good health.

Mr. Straus has long maintained a working relationship with the Gerson Institute, founded by his mother, Charlotte Gerson in 1978, acting as a Director, Vice President, Publicity, Editor of the Gerson Healing Newsletter, and eventually founding the Gerson Healing Center in Sedona, Arizona. Though the opposition forced its failure after a year and a half of operation, the patients and staff were an inspiration to Mr. Straus.

After the computer industry "bubble" collapsed, Mr. Straus undertook to write the biography of his famous grandfather, mainly because nobody else had produced the life story of a man Nobel Laureate Prof. Albert Schweitzer called, "one of the most eminent medical geniuses ever," and the firsthand sources were starting to disappear. The book was published in 2001, has been translated and published in German, and a Japanese edition is now underway. A second edition is forthcoming this year, and negotiations are underway with a major studio to produce a feature film based on the biography.

Mr. Straus founded Cancer Research Wellness Institute in 1999, with the goal of educating people about "cancer therapies that work." To that end, he has lectured in Singapore, Canada, Malaysia, Thailand, Japan and Europe, as well as supporting Charlotte Gerson in her American lectures and seminars for many years.

HOWARD STRAUS – BIOGRAPHY (CON'T)

He regularly appears on radio talk shows across the country, and is known for inspiring spirited call-in discussions when he does.

Mr. Straus assisted cinematographer/producer Steve Kroschel in the production of three documentaries on the Gerson Therapy: The Gerson Miracle, Dying to Have Known and The Beautiful Truth. He appears in all three, and acted as technical advisor on the films as well. The Gerson Miracle was awarded "Best Picture" at the 2004 Beverly Hills Film Festival. All three films are distributed by Cinema Libre Studio of Canoga Park, California.

Mr. Straus serves as the President of Totality Books, the publisher of Charlotte Gerson's second book, Healing the Gerson Way, co-authored by Beata Bishop, a 28-year survivor of stage IV spreading melanoma. This very well-received volume is being translated into nine languages, including Chinese and Arabic, in just its first year of publication.

THE GERSON INSTITUTE

The Gerson Institute is a non-profit organization located in San Diego, California, dedicated to the alternative, non-toxic treatment of disease, using the Gerson Therapy.

The Gerson Therapy is a safe, natural treatment developed by Dr. Max Gerson in the 1920's that uses organic foods, juicing, coffee enemas, detoxification and natural supplements to activate the body's ability to heal itself. Over the past 60 years, thousands of people have used the Gerson Therapy to recover from so-called "incurable" diseases such as cancer, diabetes, heart disease and arthritis.

Founded by Charlotte Gerson (Dr. Gerson's daughter) in 1977, they are the true source of information on the original, unmodified, proven Gerson Therapy.

STEVE KROSCHER – Writer, Producer, Director

Steve Kroschel, 47, has been a filmmaker for over 20 years. He first started out as a cinematographer for the highly acclaimed PBS series, "Wild America." Although his official title was cinematographer, he became the writer, editor and producer for over 70 episodes of the popular series. Steve then began to freelance for other award-winning natural history programs and series including PBS' Nova, Nature and National Geographic, among others. Steve also independently wrote, produced and directed three other feature films including "Out of the Wilderness," "Avalanche," and "The Adventures of Black Feather," in a distinctively "guerrilla" or "McGyver" manner shot in remote locations with limited resources and crew members in what would normally take a dozen assistants. Kroschel has shot over 100 documentaries for National Geographic, the BBC, PBS and numerous others. His credits include "Vertical Limit," "Eight Below Zero," "Seven Years in Tibet," "I Spy," "Never Cry Wolf," "Pathfinder," "Wild America" and more. To this day, this hard-won experience with little to no budget, has enabled him to produce films that need to be made -- no matter what -- which might otherwise languish for years in production development hell at a major studio.

As to his first feature documentary, "The Beautiful Truth," Steve says, "It is the most profoundly satisfying project of my entire career."

WILLIAM BACON III – Executive Producer

At 81 years young, Bill is a multiple Emmy award winning cinematographer who got his start from none other than the master of entertainment himself -- Walt Disney. Bill worked closely and personally with Walt Disney in the production of the Disney True-Life Nature Series such as "Old Yeller," "Charlie the Lonesome Cougar," "The Incredible Journey," "The Living Desert" and dozens more.

Bill continues to stay active in all aspects of filmmaking and freelances for dozens of production companies, as well as financing many humanitarian projects. Bill states that "The Beautiful Truth" is a film that every person who thinks they are sentenced to death, should see. For everyone, there is tremendous hope, which is the ultimate beautiful truth.
